

Resort Expands in Wasatch County

Apr 1984

HEBER CITY—The Wasatch County Planners office reports that expansion plans for the Deer Valley Ski Resort have been submitted for approval.

The plans, which are solely in Wasatch County, are for an expansion of skiing lifts and runs. The new chairlift, if approved, would be under construction this summer.

According to Bob Mathis, County Planner, the developers of Deer Valley are seeking a march approval so that the installation can begin immediately.

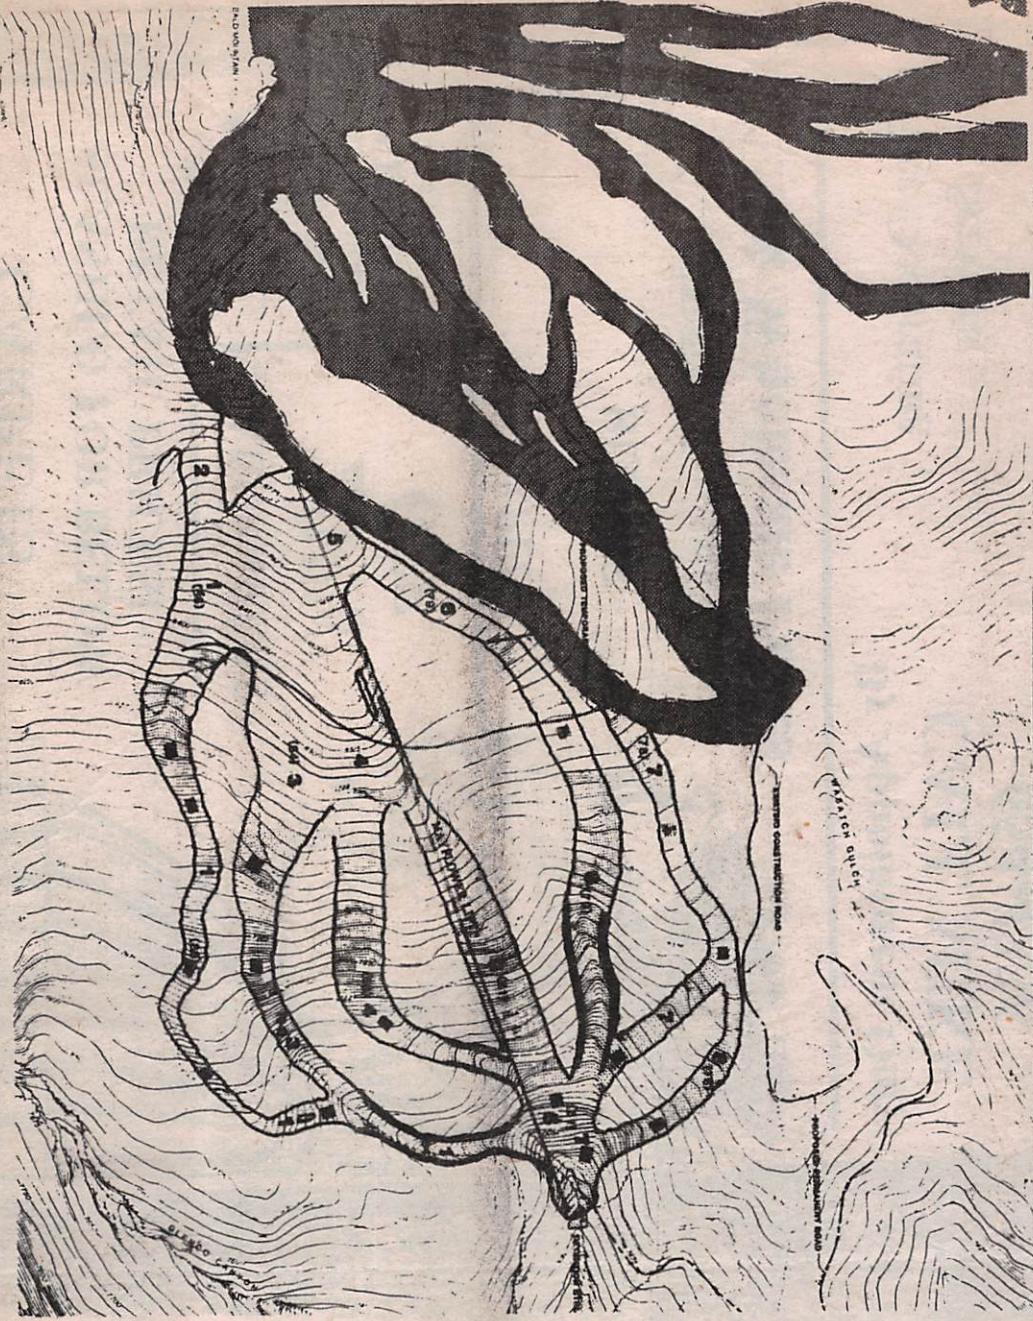

Deer Valley has also sought approval from the Park City Planning Commission for the expansion of its lodging facilities at Stein Eriksen Lodge. The new inn would have approximately 140,000 sq. ft. of living space.

The new lift, designated the Mayflower lift, will be built on property owned by Mayflower resort, and accordingly, will meet specification set out by the Mayflower group.

It will open up 9 new major runs for the Deer Valley area.

The double chair-lift will be built from a point just above the Old Star Mine, and Glenco Canyon, to run half way up Bald Mountain.

"It was considered 3 years earlier when the original plans were submitted and now will be reviewed by the planning commission," stated Mathis. "I feel fine about it.

Mayflower lift (light gray) will be constructed this summer on the Deer Valley Ski resort. The lift will add to the already beautiful resort, and will fit in with the plans for the proposed Mayflower Resort. The lift will join the other lifts on Bald Mountain (darker gray) giving 9 new runs for skiers. The entire lift is located in Wasatch County.
